Durham, NC – Durham County Library presents Home Movie Day on Saturday, February 9 at 2 – 5 p.m. at Stanford L. Warren Branch Library, 1201 Fayetteville St., Durham, NC 27707. This event is free and open to the public.

Home Movie Day is an international celebration of amateur films, designed to provide a showcase for home movies, student films and other forms of amateur media while also providing a gathering to discuss best practices for film and digital media preservation. Look through your attic, dig through your closets, call up Grandma and search out your family’s home movies. Bring 8mm, Super8mm, 16mm film, VHS and Video8/Hi8 video tape (sorry, no slides) to see your movie projected, or just show up and watch the films of others. It's not just historically significant, it's fun! Raleigh’s A/V Geeks Transfer Services will transfer attendees’ film to digital formats for free at the program.

This program is sponsored by the Durham Library Foundation. For more information, call 919-560-0268 or visit DurhamCountyLibrary.org.

Durham County Library encourages Discovery, connects the Community and leads in Literacy. As a department of Durham County Government, the library furthers Goal 1 of the county’s Strategic Plan by enhancing cultural, educational and creative opportunities.
