

Media Alert

Date: February 6, 2019
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CONTACT: Stephanie Bonestell
Public Relations Manager
919-560-0151 or sbonestell@dconc.gov

Submissions to the 2019 Triangle Comics Creator Network Comics Anthology Now Being Accepted

Durham, NC – The Triangle Comics Creator Network (TCCN) is proud to announce its call for entries to the 2019 TCCN Comics Anthology. The TCCN Comics Anthology is a new publication designed to showcase comics made by creators of all ages and experience levels who live in and around Durham, Orange, and Wake Counties. Applicants are NOT required to be members of the TCCN in order to participate in this submission drive.

To access the complete submission requirements, applicant eligibility guidelines, and official submission form, please visit <https://durhamcomicsfest.org/tccn-anthology/>. For more information about submissions or anything else related to the TCCN Comics Anthology, please contact Patrick Holt at 919-560-8648 or pdholt@dconc.gov.

The Triangle Comics Creator Network is organized by Durham County Library and Chapel Hill Public Library and funded by the Friends of the Durham Library with additional support from Atomic Empire.

Durham County Library encourages Discovery, connects the Community and leads in Literacy. As a department of Durham County Government, the library furthers Goal 1 of the county's Strategic Plan by enhancing cultural, educational and creative opportunities. For more information about the library, visit DurhamCountyLibrary.org.