

All of Us
RESEARCH PROGRAM

Come experience the All of Us Journey

The All of Us Research Program is a large research program led by the National Institutes of Health. Its mission is to speed up health research and medical breakthroughs. To do this, All of Us is asking one million or more people to confidentially share their health information to build the largest health database of its kind.

Approved researchers can access this data to explore how factors like environment, lifestyle, and genes can impact health. This may help develop new medical treatments that are unique to individuals and enable a future of precision medicine for all of us.

The All of Us Journey mobile exhibit has interactive activities to help you learn about precision medicine, research, and the All of Us Research program. A healthier future, let's pass it on together.
