Dear Mr. Ama:

I ran across your name in one of our files and thought I would drop you a line just to say hello.

You, no doubt, remember me at Hampton, the class of 1940. I have been here in Durham ever since I graduated from Hampton. I married Artelia Tennessee who lived in Phoebus. She graduated from Phoenix and entered Hampton that fall. She lived just beyond the National Cemetery in Phoebus. At one time, we went back to Hampton about every six months. Now that her parents are dead, we go back about once every 15 or 18 months to check her home place.

There are a number of Hamptonians here in Durham. You may remember Thomas Tucker, the wrestler, Booker Spaulding, Nat White the printer, Ferdinand Pete Allison, Willamina Morrison Upchurch, Theresa Palmer Edmonds, Reginald "Geewee" Smith, Uzell Patterson Smith, Walter Durham, George Logan, Lola Engram Reddick, to name a few in this area. I would imagine that Philadelphia is full of Hamptonians.

This is just a note to say hello after recognizing your name.

Yours very truly,

R. Kelly Bryant, Jr.
