LARGE MEETING ROOM AND STUDY ROOM POLICY

Printable policy (PDF)

A. PURPOSE
The purpose of the large meeting room and study room policy is to provide a basis for equitable service to all customers who request to use the library’s facilities and to clarify the responsibilities of both the library and its customers with regard to the use of the library’s meeting and study rooms.

B. DEFINITIONS
LARGE MEETING ROOM – Large meeting room refers to any room(s) within library locations that can accommodate a minimum of 9 persons per library regulations, and that must be booked in advance and approved by authorized library staff. The availability and number of large meeting rooms may vary based on the size and space needs.

OPEN TO THE PUBLIC – Any gatherings that occur in large meeting rooms must be open for any member of the community to attend and participate. Gatherings cannot be private meetings, events, or programs. All must be welcome to attend.

STUDY ROOM: Study room refers to any room(s) within library locations that can accommodate up to 8 persons per fire code regulations, and that can be reserved by the customer without prior approval by library staff. Study rooms are available on an equal basis if available and once a customer has booked a study room, it is available for their private use. The availability and number of Study Rooms may vary based on the size and needs of the library.

C. POLICY STATEMENT
Durham County Library makes its large meeting room and study room facilities available to local groups and organizations for lawful public use on an equitable basis, regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use. All meetings, programs and events held in large meeting rooms must be free and open to the public. No fees, dues or donations may be charged to or solicited from those attending meetings held in library facilities, including large meeting rooms. Permission by the library to use its facilities does not constitute an endorsement by the library staff, the Library Board of Trustees, or the Durham County Board of Commissioners.
The library’s meeting rooms and study rooms are not available for private events such as graduations, weddings, birthday or anniversary parties. Large meeting rooms are not available for individual use or for use by groups of 8 or less. Study rooms can be for individual or private use. Large meeting rooms and study rooms are not to be used as a base of operations for any club, business, or organization. Meetings cannot exceed room capacity. While the maximum capacity of a room is nominally set by the Fire Marshal, a room’s actual capacity may be more limited due to configuration and set-up, or health and safety concerns. Durham County Library staff reserve the right to decline use of large meeting rooms or to ask customers to leave if the number of persons in the room exceeds the room capacity. The Library reserves the right to decline any reservation for any reason. Some meeting room spaces at Main Library will follow the Durham County Facility Use Policy regarding fees and availability.

A valid, full privileges Durham County Library card is required to reserve a meeting room or study room. Large meeting rooms and study rooms may be reserved online (durhamcountylibrary.org), by phone or in person. Customers may only access large meeting rooms and study rooms during library operating hours. Customers may not access library buildings before opening or after closing to set up or prepare for gatherings. Rooms are not available if the library buildings must close due to inclement weather, or other circumstances. Access to large meeting rooms and study rooms is only given during the hours of reservation, reservation time must include set up and take down. Customers reserving large meeting rooms are responsible for their own event set up, clean up and take down. Customers must return large meeting rooms and study rooms to the posted set up. Customers must notify the library of cancellation prior to the meeting date so the room may be made available to other customers. Large meeting room and study room reservations will terminate, and customers must conclude gatherings and exit rooms, 30 minutes prior to the close of the library. Abuse of the Meeting Room and Study Room Policy may result in loss of room use privileges.
