Scope and Content:	The bulk of the Club Boulevard Humanities Magnet School collection consists of scrapbooks and principal's albums. It also contains yearbooks, handbooks, and newsletters. Most of the scrapbooks include images, anecdotes, and clippings related to students, teachers, and others for the years 1999-2005. The principal's photo albums contain group photographs of classes and their teacher spanning the years 1995-2012. The two yearbooks in the collection are from spring 2009 and the 2009-2010 school year. The family handbooks feature information concerning the history of the school and school policies related to students. The newsletters include short stories, crafts, and other literary information geared to the school's students.
Restrictions:	None
Biographical/Historical Note:	Club Boulevard Elementary School opened in November 1950 as a result of the baby boom and overcrowding at neighboring schools in Durham, North Carolina. In 1970, Club Boulevard collaborated with East End School, with students from grades 1-3 attending East End while grades 4-6 attended Club Boulevard. In 1982, Club Boulevard served students from kindergarten to the fifth grade. In
